

---

Are You Man Enough to Rock a Boa?

---

Mission: Field test boa

Mission Authoring Coach: Bravo

Mission Goal: Test a boa as a peacocking item

Description:

Many will doubt that something such as a furry boa will help you infield. This mission will prove what happens when you step outside your comfort zone and test something counter intuitive.

Rationale:

A basic rule of pick up is to be the exception to the rule, to stand out. Wearing an interesting item accomplishes just that. It also gives women a justifiable excuse to open you.

Instructions:

The second episode of VH1's The Pick Up Artist recently aired. On this episode Matt won the challenge and as his reward, he was presented with a special accessory, one of Mystery's black boas. In addition, he also had some private coaching with Mystery where he was further instructed on the details of its use. Later during the infield footage, we saw one of the BEST reasons why wearing an interesting item can help you game.

Reasons to rock a boa:

1. As a lock in prop
  2. Women will open you
  3. DHV- Magic
-
1. Mystery demonstrated how it may be used as a lock in prop. A lock in prop is something you loan to a girl during your interaction. The reasons? So she sticks around while you win over the rest of the set, so you have an excuse to talk to her later if she wandered off with it, and my favorite when you are parting ways that evening you can tell her to give it back next time you see her on your date.
  2. Just like on the first episode, Matador was demonstrating how the game is played and a girl reached out and touched his furry vest, a woman opened Matt similarly. When a girl opens you, one of the most difficult steps is completely skipped, the cold approach. Matt had for the first time in his life, a woman open him because of his challenge reward.
  3. If you are familiar with magic performed with a short piece of rope, a boa can be used in much the same way. The reason you would do this is to DHV (Demonstrate Higher Value) almost everyone loves magic and performing something interesting and different is a great way to build value. However you must perform this correctly and not come off as "try-hard" where you are trying to impress others.

---

Are You Man Enough to Rock a Boa?

---

Reason to test:

While many may find wearing an item such as this ridiculous, we can all learn from it. Whether we find something new to add to our nightly ensemble, or just the fact you are trying something different from your normal routine, stepping outside your comfort zone is the key to success. If not, our comfort zone would be filled with women, which if you are reading this, chances are it is not. Remember stepping outside of your comfort zone will be difficult, that is why it is called your "comfort zone."

Another reason to test this is to actually prove its effectiveness. What if it only works for someone like Mystery? Matt walked around the club for a while before a female asked him about it, then the interaction didn't seem to go very far. Did the friend save her from "Boa Man" or was his game after the open lacking? Testing this with a different demographic will let us know if this is something that should be added to your social artist toolbox.

Follow up:

Test a boa or something equally interesting infield and report your findings back at www.PickUpLabs.com So others can learn if this is something they should purchase or stay away from.